

Section 4: Ingram Public Library 2017 Action Plan

Background

A recent needs assessment conducted by Ingram Public Library revealed that the library has a shortage of foreign language materials that meet the needs of the community's growing multicultural population. According to this needs assessment, 23% of community residents of Slavic origin feel that the library does not sufficiently meet their needs.

Objectives

To address the Slavic community's negative perceptions of current holdings, Ingram Public Library has budgeted $3500 for FY2017 to purchase materials in Slavic languages – Russian, Polish, Hungarian, and Ukrainian. With this budget in mind, this action plan intends to make Ingram Public Library more accessible and welcoming for people of Slavic origin

Strategies

- Focus collection development on key areas identified as “gaps” in the 2016 Ingram Public Library Needs Assessment, including popular fiction, nonfiction, serials, and DVDs in Russian, Polish, and other Slavic languages
- Drive awareness of newly purchased Slavic language materials via outreach to local schools and employers
- Support continued Slavic language collection development through grant applications, so as to accelerate breadth and depth of these holdings while maintaining commitment to development of the broader collection

Success Metrics

Ingram Public Library will continue to monitor satisfaction rates in future years to ensure the improvement of Slavic community residents' perception of library holdings. The following benchmarks shall be deemed achievement of this plan's objectives:

- By 2017, 82% of Slavic residents surveyed will be satisfied with the library's holdings.
- By 2020, 95% of Slavic residents surveyed will be satisfied with the library's holdings.

Resources

Two librarians will be charged with researching available materials, selecting items that fit the criteria, and compiling a list of suggested purchases. The library's director will then review the list and give the final approvals. It is estimated that this process will take one month. The library will spend $3,500 total on materials published in Slavic languages.

Selection of Materials

Materials were selected using various methods: lists of books by award-winning Eastern European authors; current and recent U. S. best sellers that have been published in Slavic languages; classic folktales in Slavic cultures; classic U.S. literature that has been published in Slavic languages; and popular non-fiction books published in Slavic languages. These materials will be purchased from the following places:

1. Amazon – English language-accessible storefront and/or distributor for many non-English language publishers, such as AST, ESKMO, Azbuka, and others.
2. Nasza Kaiegarnia – Major Polish Publisher
3. Konyvmolykepzo – Major Hungarian Publisher
4. The Polish Bookstore – Large Selection of Polish Books
5. Ukrainian Weekly – Online Weekly Newspaper about Ukraine
6. International Children’s Books – Retailer of Books Published in Many Languages

We will expand the collection in future years by expanding on the library’s digital media, subscription services, and children’s books. As more Slavic patrons come into the library, they may assist library staff with making suggestions for resources that they would like to see.

On Goodreads, a list of the best books for children and teens written by Russian/Soviet authors has been compiled according to the site's users. For each title, all known editions and translations are listed, so finding titles published in Russian is fairly simple. The ISBN numbers for each translation are given, along with the publisher.

Goodreads. (n.d.). Retrieved July 10, 2016 from <https://www.goodreads.com/>

The Goodreads website was searched for children's titles in Polish, Ukrainian, and Hungarian. ISBN numbers and publishers are given for each translation. Since there were English translations available for each title, it was easy to find out what the Slavic language books were about.

The Ukrainian Weekly is a source of online news about the Ukraine, as well as the Ukrainian community in the USA and Canada. The Ukrainian Weekly was founded in 1933 to serve the Ukrainian American community and to function as a vehicle for communication of that community's concerns to the general public in the United States. The Ukrainian Weekly website is maintained by the newspaper's production and editorial staffs, and provides archival materials as a community service.
